

How, not what

Who you are makes us how we are

All clients want exceptional service so we build, equip and continuously strengthen our teams with that sole objective in mind.

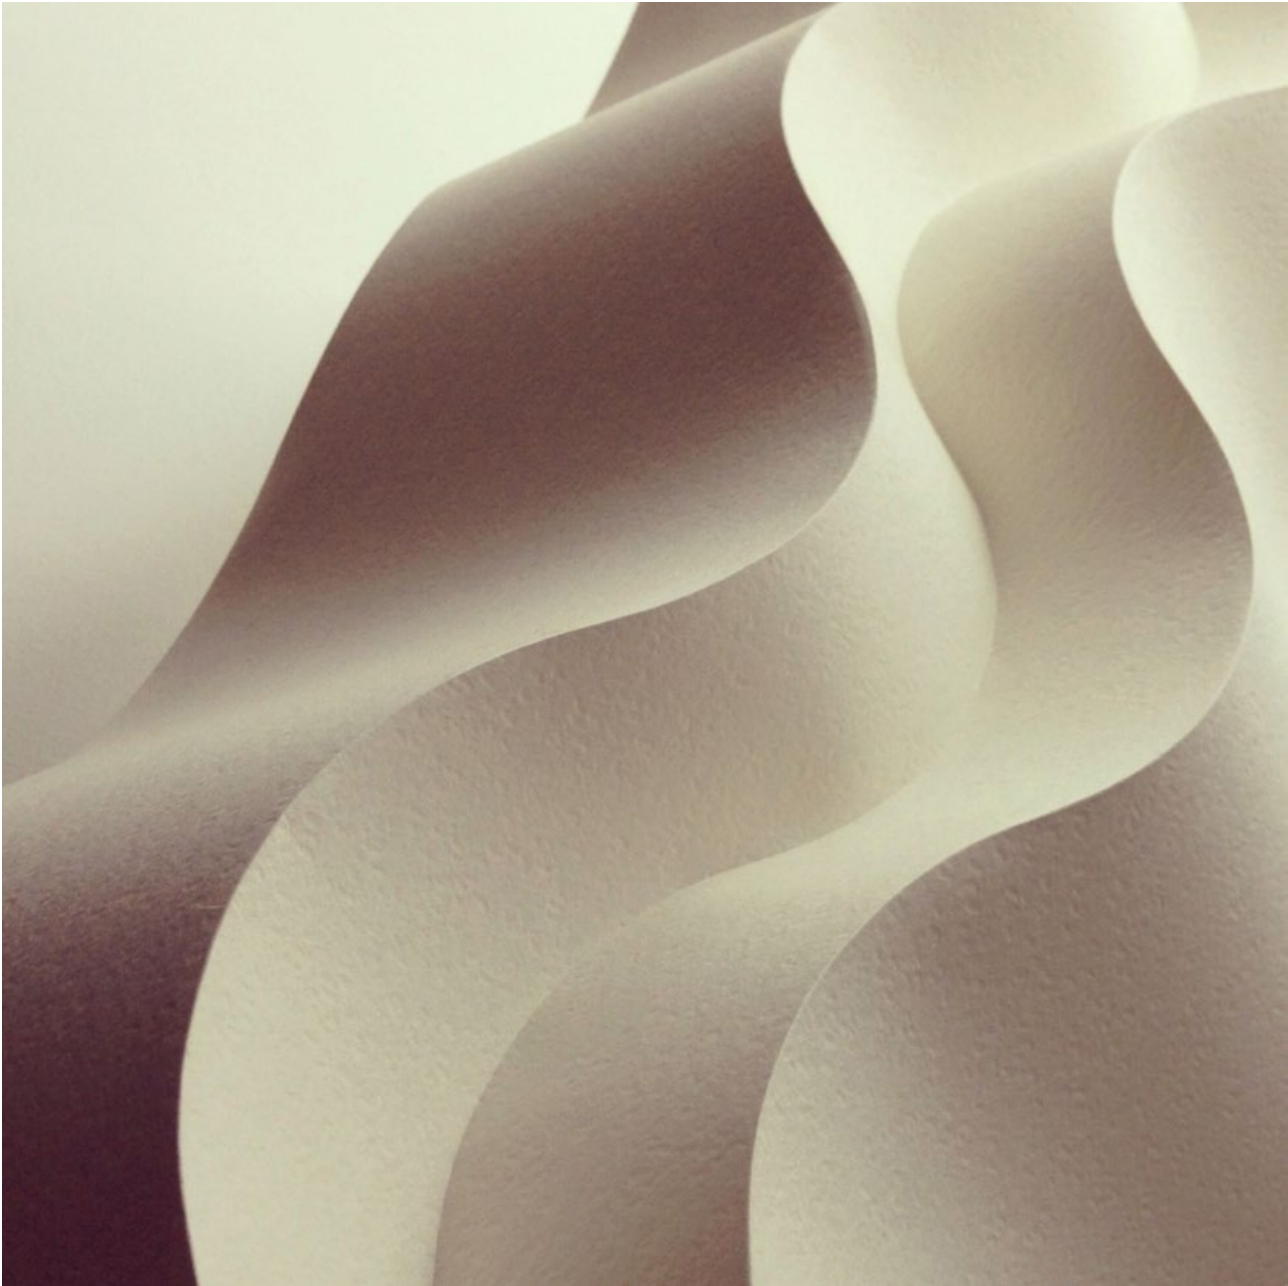

Whether acting for an institutional property investor, a fast-moving tech company or a private individual, our approach is the same: we make your objectives our own.

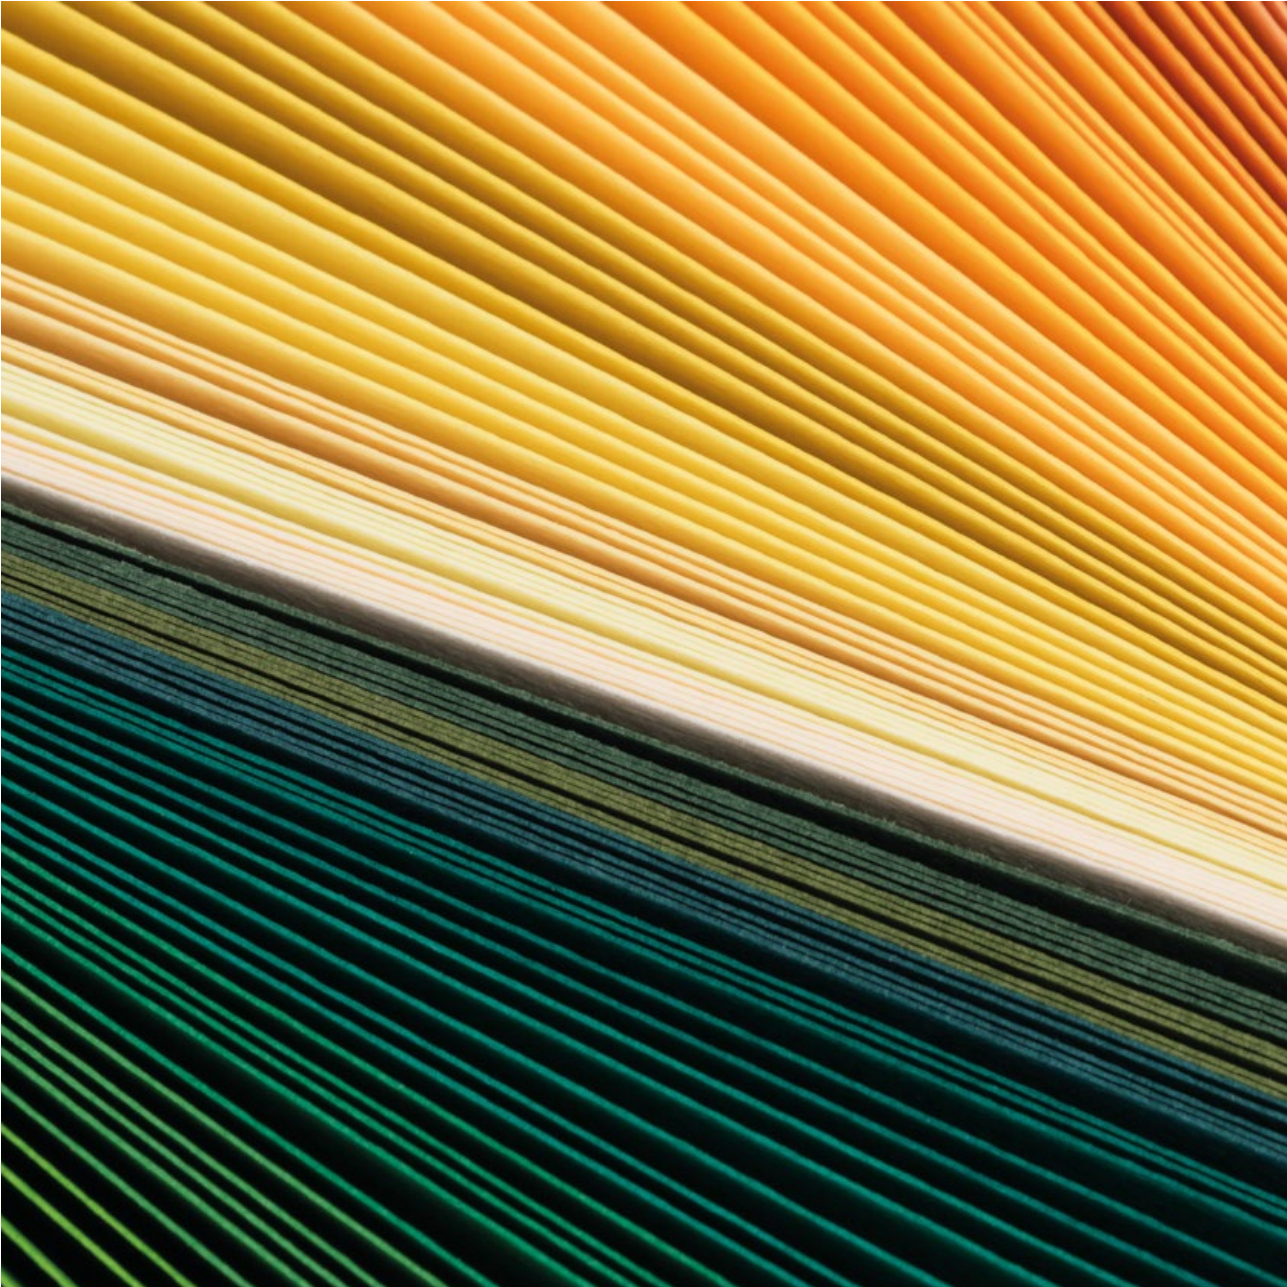

What you need determines how we work

We counteract a complicated world with clarity.
We get you where you need to be at a pace you set.
Minimum fuss. Maximum impact. Zero waffle.

We help you seize opportunities, solve immediate problems, plan for the future, simplify your life or strengthen your business.

Our investment in the best talent and technology keeps us, and you, ahead of the curve.

Why how matters

Expertise and experience alone are not enough.
How we work matters too. You need lawyers who care more, imagine better, enjoy their work and consistently achieve for you.

We care

Caring is our investment in quality; it brings better outcomes for you.
We care about our clients, our work, our people, our world – and the difference we make to them all.

We imagine

Our working culture puts a premium on applied imagination and creativity.
Why? To deliver new and better solutions, future-proofed for an ever-changing world.

We enjoy

We're in no doubt: enjoying our work and relationships with clients brings out the best in us. And the best in us means the best advice and outcomes for you.

We achieve more for you

Our focus on the 'how' – on caring, imagining and enjoying – achieves more for you. We have such confidence in this formula that we stand by our service guarantee.

How we work has made us who we are

By making 'how we do it' as important as 'what we do', we've built a business with a unique culture and a capability designed around our clients' needs.

We have one of the UK's largest private client teams helping individuals and families to maximise their assets; making their lives easier by taking the burden out of managing their personal affairs.

Our multi-award-winning corporate team supports many of the UK's most exciting businesses from innovative start-ups to global brands; fulfilling all the legal service needs a business has during its life cycle.

We have one of the largest commercial real estate teams in the UK covering every aspect of the property life cycle; working with private and institutional owners/investors, developers, lenders, private equity, landed estates and major occupiers.

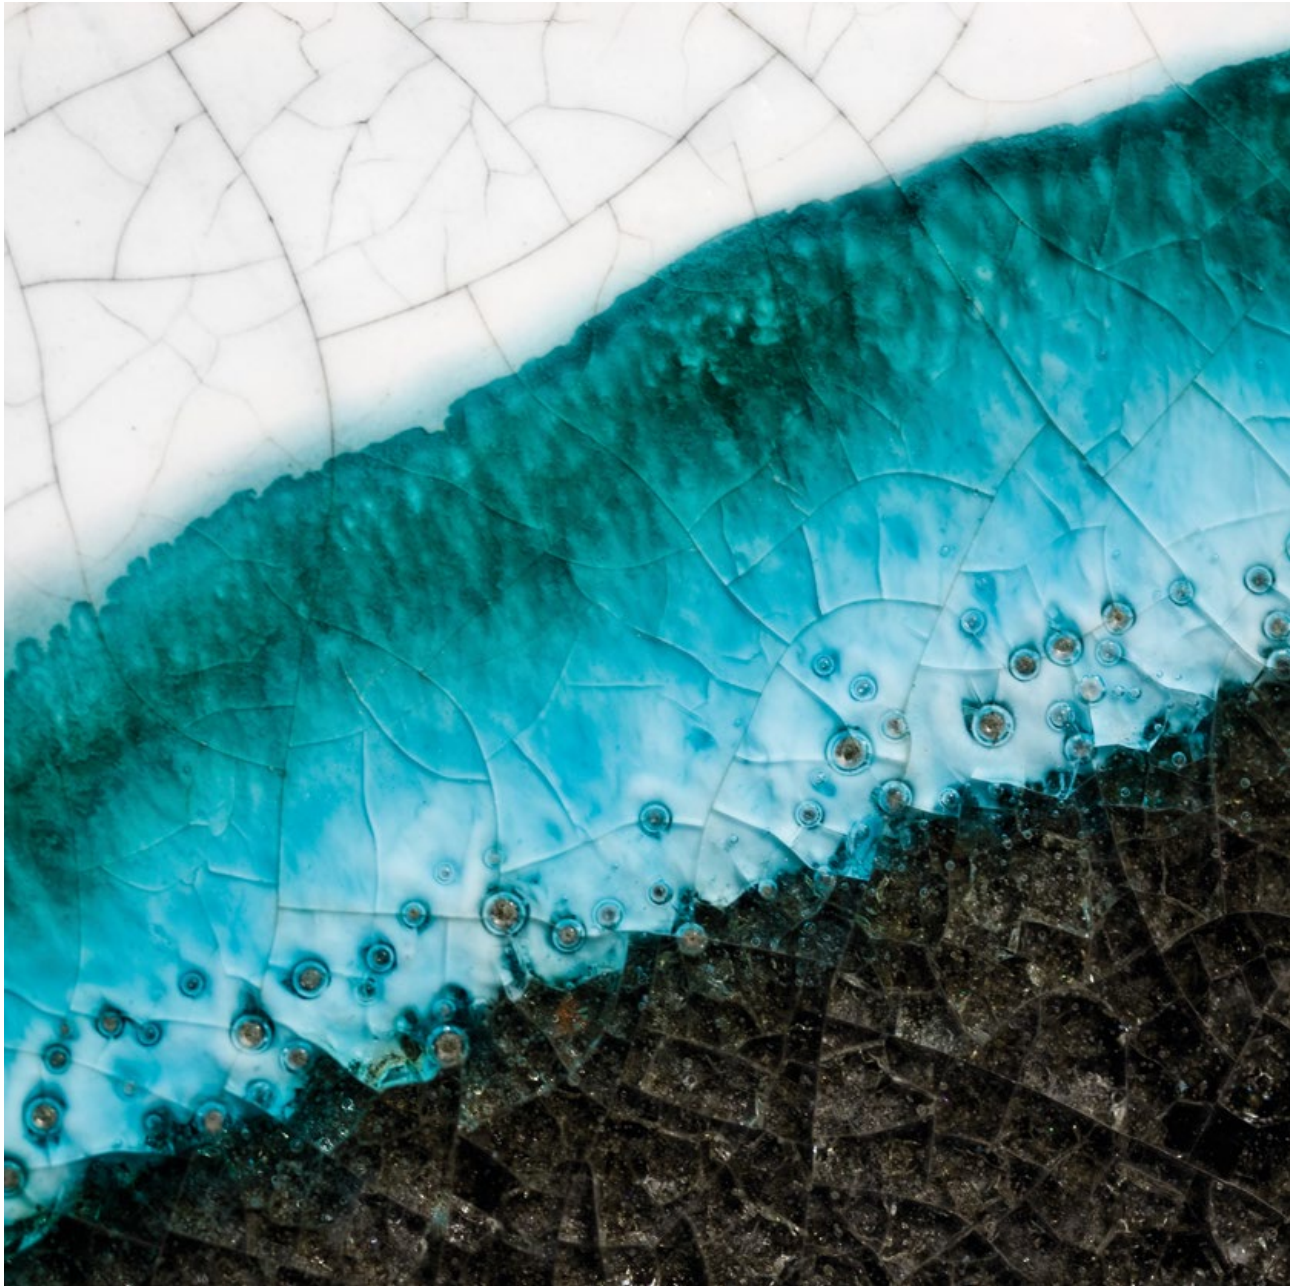

Making a mark

Artists and craftspeople make their mark on the world;
we strive to do the same.

Design & art direction: See Think Do

Words: Fraser Southey

Printing: CPG

www.crippspg.co.uk